No Buns

“Mom, can I fix hot dogs for us?” said Zack.

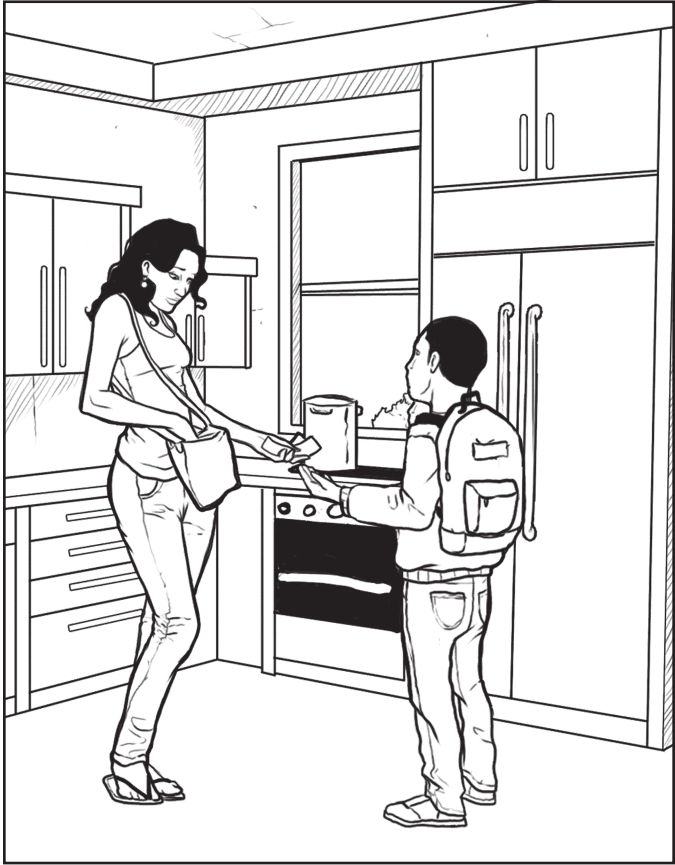

“You can if we have buns to put the dogs in,” said Mom. “Are there buns in the bin?”

“No,” said Zack. “We have no buns. We can not have hot dogs with out buns. But I can get us buns. Then we can have lots of hot dogs.”

“We will have hot dogs at six,” said Mom. “Can you get buns by then?”

“Yes,” said Zack. “I will hop on the bus to get the buns.” Then Zack got his pack and put it on his back.

Mom got Zack bills for the buns and the bus. “The buns will be a buck,” Mom said. “Put the bills and buns in your pack.”

“I will get a pack of six buns. Then we can have six hot dogs,” said Zack. “That will fill us up.”

“You will have to run,” said Mom. “Do not miss the bus.”

Zack was quick. He ran up the hill and got on the bus. He had a job to do.

The Box

Zack got off the bus in a bit. Then he went to get hot dog buns.

“Do you sell buns for hot dogs?” Zack said to a man. “I want a pack of six buns.”

With a nod, the man went up to a rack. On the rack sat lots of packs of buns. He got Zack a pack of six hot dog buns. “Is that it?” said the man.

“Yes,” said Zack. He set down a bill for the buns. Then he put the buns in his pack.

Zack had to get back with the buns, but he did not see the bus yet.

Then Zack saw a man put a box in the back of a red van. The man did not lock the back of the van. He got in the van and off he went. But the van hit a rut, and the box fell out of the back. The man in the van did not see this. He went on in the van.

What to Do

Zack went up to the box that fell out of the van. It was not big, but it had mud on it. He went to pick it up. Zack had to see what it said on the box.

On the box Zack saw

Zack had to see what it said on the box.

“Jim.” Then he saw “256 Dell.” Did a bit of it rub off with the mud?

“Dell is by the dock,” said Zack. “I can get to Dell on the bus. Then I can go to 256. Zack had to get the box to Jim. It was his job.

Zack put the box in his pack with the buns. Then he sat for a bit.

Can he hop on the bus and get back with the buns by six? Yes, he can get on the bus and go to Dell. But what bus will get him there? He had to see.
