

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	xiii

Chapter 1 • 1

Assessing Stuttering	1
Formal Measures of Stuttering	1
Internalization of Stuttering	2
Understanding the Child’s Stuttering Pattern	2
Assessing Physiological Components	3
Assessing the Child’s Reactions to Stuttering	5
Assessing the Child’s Attitudes and Emotions	7
Assessing Parental Attitudes and Behaviors	9

Chapter 2 • 11

Working with Parents and Teachers	11
Counseling Parents	11
Educating Parents About Stuttering and the Therapy Process	13
Developing Realistic Expectations for Change	16
Modifying Parental Interactions	17
Parental Involvement in the Child’s Therapy.	17
Reducing Parental Guilt, Fear, and Frustration	17
Working with Teachers	20

Chapter 3 • 23

Therapy Components and Treatment Planning 23

- Combining Fluency Shaping and Modification Therapies 23
- Using a Treatment Hierarchy. 23
- Using Modeling and Reinforcement. 26
- Teaching Self-Monitoring Skills 26
- Transferring and Maintaining New Speech Skills 26
- Guidelines for Teaching Speech Tools:
Important Points to Remember 27
- Treatment Planning. 27
- Examples of Treatment Planning: Case Studies. 30
- Optimizing Flexibility in Therapy. 37

Chapter 4 • 39

Exploring and Understanding Stuttering 39

- Teaching the Child to Understand
Normal and Stuttered Speech Production 39
- Identifying Stuttering 43
- Improving Self-Monitoring 49

Chapter 5 • 51

Stretching: A Fluency Shaping Framework for Therapy 51

- Teaching Stretching 52
- Building a Fluency Staircase. 53
- Activities for Teaching Stretching 53

Chapter 6 • 77

Other Fluency Shaping Strategies. 77

- Easy Voice (Easy Vocal Onset) 79
- Slides (Soft Articulatory Contacts) 82
- Hooking On (Transitional Movement and Sound Blending) 83
- Voice-On (Continuous Voicing). 85
- Chunking (Phrasing) 87
- Big Speech (Over-Articulation) 89

Chapter 7 • 91

Modification Components of Therapy 91
 Who Will Benefit from Modification Therapy? 92
 Desensitizing the Child to Stuttering. 93
 Modifying Real Moments of Stuttering 99

Chapter 8 • 103

Improving Attitudes and Emotions 103
 Validating the Child’s Feelings. 104
 Talking About Stuttering 105
 Expressing Feelings About Stuttering. 106
 Validating Goals While Encouraging
 Realistic Expectations for Change 110
 Managing Teasing 112
 Self-Advocating 114
 Using Positive Self-Talk. 116
 Participating in Group Therapy. 118
 Accepting Stuttering 118

Chapter 9 • 121

Maximizing Success and Minimizing Regression 121
 Assessing Progress 121
 Managing Regression 122
 Desensitizing the Child to Fluency Disruption 123
 Transfer and Maintenance Strategies 124
Resources.129
References131
Reproducibles.135
About the Author185