

Table of Contents

Introduction .....	5	Ideas .....	75
The Importance of Writing .....	5	Lesson 1: My Authority List.....	77
Traits of Quality Writing.....	6	Lesson 2: Authors as Mentors .....	80
The Reading and Writing Connection ..	7	Lesson 3: Interesting Places .....	83
The Purpose of Assessment .....	10	Lesson 4: The Best Times! The Worst Times! .....	86
How to Use This Book .....	11	Lesson 5: Brainstorming Boxes .....	89
Planning Writing Instruction .....	11	Lesson 6: What Should We Write?.....	92
Components of Writer’s Workshop ....	14	Lesson 7: Pocket of Picture Topics ....	95
Implementing the Lessons.....	15	Lesson 8: I Wonder List.....	98
Implementing Writer’s Workshop .....	18	Sentence Fluency .....	101
The Writing Conference.....	19	Lesson 1: Circle and Count .....	103
The Writer’s Notebook.....	21	Lesson 2: Subject + Predicate = Sentence .....	106
Top 10 Tips for Creating Successful Writers .....	23	Lesson 3: Sentence Search .....	110
Correlation to Standards.....	24	Lesson 4: Appositive Action .....	117
Acknowledgments .....	31	Lesson 5: Compound Sentences .....	121
About the Authors .....	32	Lesson 6: Writing Complex Sentences .....	126
Managing Writer’s Workshop .....	33	Lesson 7: Stepping Up Sentences ....	131
Lesson 1: Components of Writer’s Workshop.....	35	Lesson 8: Building Triangle Sentences .....	134
Lesson 2: Our Group Meeting .....	38	Organization .....	137
Lesson 3: The Writing Folder .....	41	Lesson 1: Creating Cinquains.....	139
Lesson 4: The Writer’s Notebook.....	50	Lesson 2: Powerful Paragraphs .....	142
Lesson 5: Organizing the Writer’s Notebook.....	52	Lesson 3: Narrative Notes .....	145
Lesson 6: Sharing.....	58	Lesson 4: Build-a-Character .....	148
Lesson 7: Turn and Talk .....	62	Lesson 5: Story Building Blocks.....	151
Lesson 8: Guidelines for Writer’s Workshop.....	65	Lesson 6: It’s a Bear Beginning .....	154
Lesson 9: Teacher and Peer Conferences .....	68	Lesson 7: Don’t You Agree?.....	158
Lesson 10: The Five-Step Writing Process .....	71	Lesson 8: It’s Your Business.....	161
		Lesson 9: How-To Writing .....	165
		Lesson 10: Composition Planner .....	168
		Lesson 11: A Cache of Poetry.....	172

Table of Contents (cont.)

Word Choice .....	175	Appendices .....	253
Lesson 1: Stupendous Similes .....	177	Appendix A: Conferring Resources....	253
Lesson 2: Be a Word Wizard .....	180	Appendix B: Assessment Resources...	261
Lesson 3: Connecting Ideas .....	183	Appendix C: Mentor Text List .....	273
Lesson 4: Put “Said” to Bed .....	187	Appendix D: Additional Resources....	282
Lesson 5: COW to WOW.....	190	Appendix E: References .....	287
Lesson 6: Auspicious Adjectives.....	193	Appendix F: Contents of the Teacher
Lesson 7: Be Explicitly Specific .....	196	Resource CD .....	290
Lesson 8: Adverb Alert .....	199
Lesson 9: Alliteration Action .....	203
Voice .....	207
Lesson 1: Show Me Your Voice.....	209
Lesson 2: What’s My Voice?.....	215
Lesson 3: The Voices on the Bus .....	217
Lesson 4: Various Voices.....	220
Conventions .....	223
Lesson 1: Capital Creations.....	225
Lesson 2: Super Spellers .....	228
Lesson 3: Common Comma
Conventions .....	231
Lesson 4: The Color of CUPS.....	235
Lesson 5: Dandy Dialogue .....	239
Lesson 6: Show Me Editing.....	242
Lesson 7: Traits Team Checklist .....	245
Lesson 8: Digging into Editing .....	248

I Wonder List

Standard

Uses prewriting strategies to plan written work

Materials

- Chart paper
- Markers
- Writer's Notebooks
- I Wonder List Notebook Entry (page 100; iwonder.pdf)

Mentor Texts

- I Wonder Why Whales Sing: and Other Questions About Sea Life by Caroline Harris
- See Mentor Text List in Appendix C for other suggestions.

Procedures

Note: Use this lesson to encourage students to wonder about the people and world around them. You may want students to publish an I Wonder series to promote accountability and motivation.

Think About Writing

1. Explain to students that one of the ways that authors get ideas for writing is by asking questions. Review with students that as readers we ask questions of ourselves to clarify an author's message and to better understand what we have read. Explain that authors often generate questions as the basis of a book.
2. Review mentor texts, if desired, and emphasize how the author generates a whole book around wondering about things.

Teach

3. Tell students, "Today I will show you how to take a text pattern and use that pattern to create your own writing."
4. Choose one of the examples from the notebook page, and write it on chart paper. Explain to students that the I wonder text pattern follows a structure: an I wonder statement followed by two questions. Tell students that this pattern can be used as the basis of ideas for writing topics.
5. Model how to create your own I wonder text using any topic you desire. Then, have students help create one together as a class.

I Wonder List (cont.)

Engage

6. Have students work with partners to think of an I wonder statement followed by two related questions. Suggested topics include parents, community, or a person you admire. Provide approximately two minutes for students to talk.

Apply

7. Encourage students to be curious about the world around them by asking questions to clarify their thinking, grow their knowledge, or improve their writing. Provide students with the I Wonder List Notebook Entry (page 100) to add to their Writer's Notebook. Have students work on the Your Turn section before proceeding to their writing folders.

Write/Conference

8. Provide time for students to write. Keep yourself available to roam and conference with individuals. Assist students who need guidance.

Spotlight Strategy

9. Spotlight students who have created strong I wonder statements for writing. For example, "Your questioning strategies are right on target. Just notice how Shabir is using the language of a writer. His writing sounds like a few I Wonder books might develop from this activity."

Share

10. Have students share their writing with partners. Ask students to read their questions to their partners and have the partners ask questions, such as: "Where did you get your ideas?" "Why are you curious about that topic?" Provide approximately two minutes for students to share.

Homework

Ask students to work with their parents to generate additional questions. Have students make lists of at least three I wonder statements they would like to add to their notebook at school.

I Wonder List Notebook Entry

I Wonder List

Authors are curious. They select topics to research and learn more about their interests. They use questions, such as Who? What? Where? When? Why? How? and What if?

Use these steps to create your own I wonder ideas for writing.

1. Select a topic and write an I Wonder statement.
2. Ask two questions.

Topic: Frogs

I wonder how frogs croak.

Where is the croaker located in the frog's body?

Why does the frog's throat wiggle when he croaks?

I wonder why frogs croak.

Are they talking to other frogs?

Is croaking a way to warn other frogs of danger?

I wonder when frogs croak.

Is it in the morning when the sun has just peeked over the horizon?

Is it at the end of the day in the late evening?

Your Turn:

Write an I Wonder statement and two related questions.