

Taking turns is getting to do an activity
or play with a special toy,
then waiting patiently until it is your turn to play again.

At school we take turns
playing at the water table,
painting at the easel,
going down the slide, and
wearing the firefighter's hat.

Sometimes we have to take turns
because only one person
can play at a time.

When we take turns, we are cooperating with our friends.
That makes our friends feel good and makes playtime more fun!

If your friend is playing with the racecar and you want to play with it, what should you do?

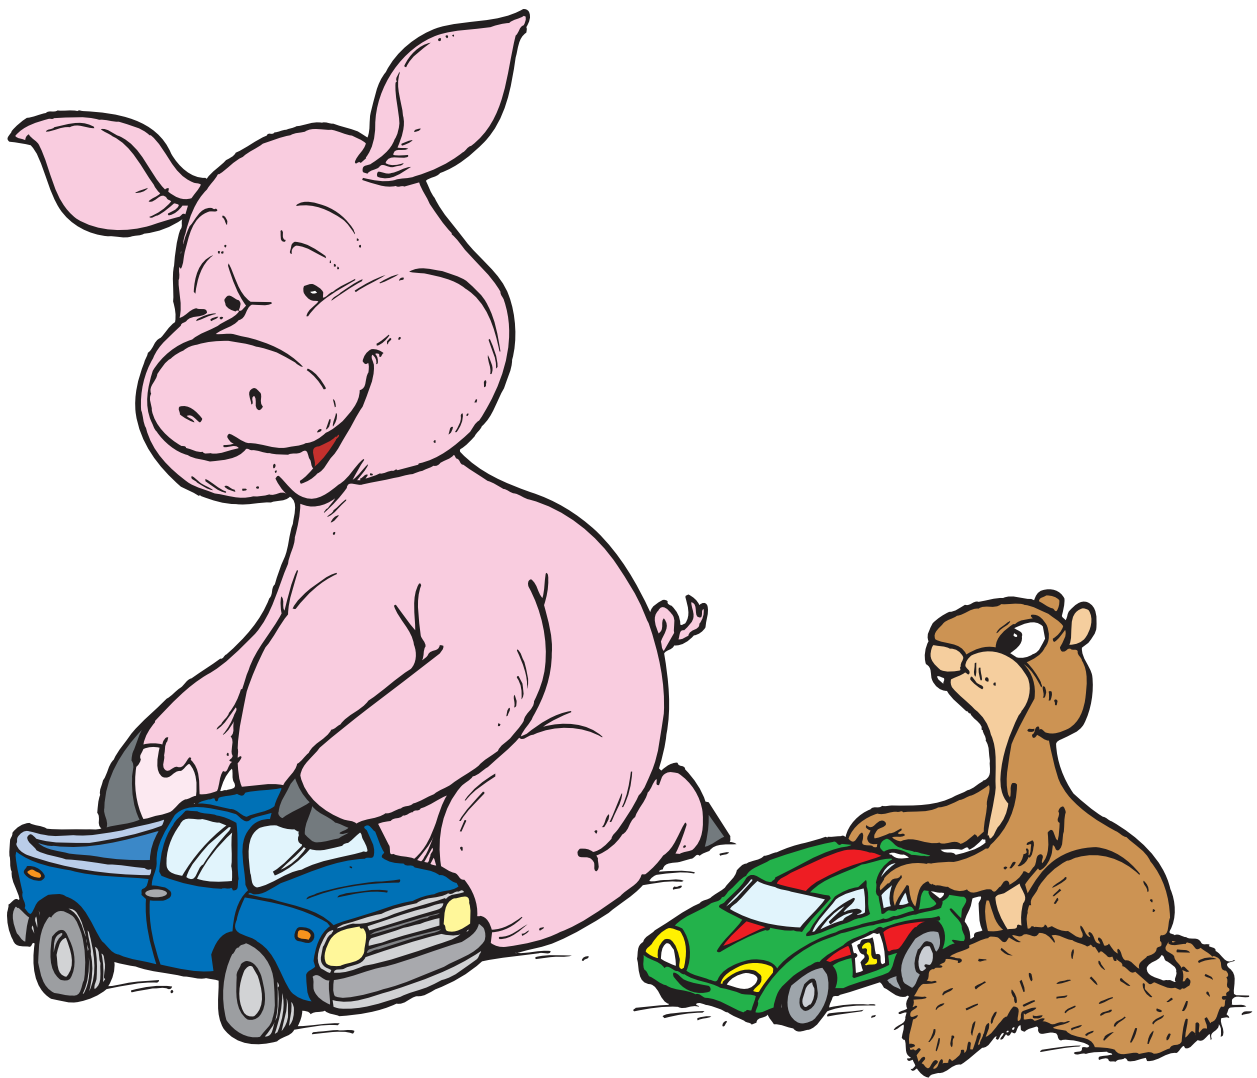

You should ask, "May I have a turn?"

Why?

Because waiting for your turn shows that you are being a polite and cooperative friend.

That makes your friend feel good and makes playtime more fun!

You can play with a truck or a motorcycle while you wait for your turn.
